In an exclusive interview with the Campbell Press, Ira Burnett, 49, victim of a one-sided shooting affray by an acquaintance of nine year's standing, and his wife termed the alleged would-be slayer a "wife-beater" and a deserter of his wife and family.

Robert Sutton, 48, Texas fruit picker, has been charged on the double counts of assault with a deadly weapon and assault with intent to commit murder following his arrest Monday night after wounding Burnett three times. The shooting occurred about 7 p.m. on Monday at 109, 111 and 115 Dillon Avenue, Campbell. He was apprehended later in San Jose and booked on open charges, until Burnett's son, Armer Devon Burnett, 23, filed criminal charges Tuesday at the office of District Attorney N. J. Menard in San Jose.

Sutton is being held at County jail pending his preliminary hearing August 30 at 9 a.m. before Judge John P. Dempsey. Bail was set at $5000 cash or $10,000 bond.

With her husband and son assisting, Mrs. Dillon told the story of Monday's happenings. The Burnetts had known Sutton for about nine years. "We first met him at Hawkins, Texas. He's always mistreated his wife and whipped her. Part of the time they (his wife and five children) have something to wear, part of the time they don't. Part of the time they have something to eat, part of the time they don't."

The Burnett family moved to Campbell from Texas last March, and have been living in a small one-room house at the rear of 115 Dillon Avenue. The Sutton family arrived a month later. To accomodate the Sutton family which arrived in a destitute condition, the Burnetts loaned them a trailer. "There never were charges for the trailer. We loaned it to them for the sake of the wife and children. It was the agreement that we could have it any time we wanted it back."

"Last Friday Sutton deserted his wife and the children. He said he had a prune picking contract at Robertsville in the Almaden Union School district. She didn't refuse to go with him, but only to live in the open shed he said he had there without any walls. She was willing to go there every day."

"He left here Friday for good. He divided up everything, piled it outside and took the car and left. Monday he came back to her at the trailer and she said he told her he would kill her and take the kids if she wouldn't go with him. Two of the kids were just over the measles, and she didn't want them to go to Robertsville and live in that shed without any shelter."

When Sutton left Friday, the Burnetts continued, he left his family destitute. "There was one loaf of bread." The children's ages range from 3 to 12. They were given groceries by Horace Alford. Last Monday Mrs. Burnett took Mrs. Sutton into San Jose and helped arrange for the Sutton family to receive County Welfare aid. They now have food and a building to live in off Winchester Road.

Meanwhile, after Sutton left his family Monday, before the shooting, they appealed to the Burnetts for a place to stay. Sutton had gone off in his car, after taking his belongings and the food from the trailer which he piled nearby. The Burnetts, in answer to Mrs. Sutton's appeal, went to the camp about 6:30 p.m., hooked the trailer to their car and moved it up to 109 Dillon Avenue, just two doors from where they were living.

After the trailer was moved, the Burnetts learned from the camp operator that Sutton had returned with a borrowed .22 automatic rifle which he assertedly loaded in the manager's yard overlooking the camp. The manager, fearing trouble, "sent a boy to call the laws. That's how they got here so fast after the shooting."

The Burnetts said Sutton, after finding the trailer gone from the camp, drove up to Gilman Avenue. Burnett and his son were at the Sutton trailer at 109 Dillon, talking with some of the family, when Burnett saw Dillon drive by, then come back again. "He's got a gun," said Burnett senior.

Sutton started shooting at me," said Ira Burnett, "and I started across to our place. I got through the fence and was

Editorial

Through unintentional carelessness on the part of many local merchants, their employes and employes of cannery and packing plants in and near the Campbell business district, this community each day suffers a considerable loss in valuable home trade.

We refer to the practice of many workers in the commercial area who, each day, park their cars on the main street and leave them there during the entire working day, thereby creating parking shortages for their customers. Many a shopper who drives into Campbell with the intention of trading at local stores, keeps on going when he fails to find parking space near the shops where he intended to trade.

You can't blame the customer. You can't blame the progressive minded merchants in the nearby communities who attract Campbell trade through their policy of courtesy and consideration of the customers' comfort and convenience.

This parking problem in Campbell is easily corrected. All that is needed is a little forethought on the part of the businessmen and their employes for the first few mornings. If they will remember to park their cars on the side streets, off the main thoroughfare, it will soon become a habit. A dead, unmoving line of cars on Campbell Avenue cuts down trade. Think of your customers. Save them a few steps.

If this voluntary policy of customer consideration fails to work, then the merchants who have deplored this parking habit, and their many customers should write to Joseph McKinnon, Supervisor of the Fourth County District, requesting a two-hour parking limit regulation for Campbell Avenue in the business area. With the aid of Supervisor McKinnon, and regular enforcement through the County Sheriff's office, Campbell can offer better service to its residents.

That old saying about the grass looking greener in the other field certainly applies to the buying habits of some people. They seem to think that they can do better by shopping in San Jose or other surrounding communities.

This might have been true years ago, but in these days when smart merchandising methods are practised by all merchants, the local customer finds, if he looks into the matter, that he can do just as well in Campbell as elsewhere.

The point is that the modern small community, especially here in California, is on its toes. Its merchants and citizens are in close touch with world developments. The local newspapers keep them informed; good highways and dependable transportation enable them to broaden their contacts; they enjoy good entertainment through the movies; they have available through the local branch bank all the financial services of metropolitan centers; their interests in cultural, political and economic affairs are broadened through close contact with national and international trends and events.

In short, Campbell today is definitely not small in its thinking, its outlook or its services. You have only to take a good look at your town to see this for yourself.

Fund Drive Plans Call For Quota of $7,800

Youth groups in the Campbell district are preparing to launch their annual co-ordinated drive for assistance, under the Community Service Fund banner, during the last week in September. Under the presidency of Laurance J. Hill, the Service Fund committee will seek to raise a quota of over $7,800, covering needs of various participating organizations submitting budgets.

RAY FISH RESIGNS

Mr. Hill succeeds Mr Ray Fish who submitted his resignation as president, due to illness, at the opening fall meeting held earlier this month by the committee at the Campbell High School Little Theater.

Mrs. J. W. Knowles of W. Rincon Avenue will serve as general chairman of the volunteer workers representing the various participating agencies. Largely for the benefit of the youth of the community, the single drive for funds will contribute to support of the following Campbell organizations in the tentative budget: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, Campfire Girls, Milk Fund, Library Fund, Scout Hall Association and Visiting Nurses Association.

The milk fund benefits pupils at Cambrian, Moreland and Campbell Grammar School districts, the latter including San Tomas and Moorpark Elementary Schools. This year the Coordinating Council, now relatively inactive, will not participate as a beneficiary, although its members hope to aid in the fund drive.

Other officers of the committee are Mrs. Betty Youngman, vice-president, and Miss Marion Parker, secretary-treasurer.

Next meeting of the committee is scheduled for Tuesday, August 23, at which time definite planning and committee work will begin.

Last year a quota goal of $6000 was set for the drive, and the final receipts fell far below the amount sought. The committee hopes, through a program of planned contributor information, to develop a greater interest in the vital work of the benefiting agencies in the youth field.

Merchants' Group Prepares Plans For Auto Campaign

The necessary 20 merchants have already indicated their intention of sponsoring the Campbell merchants' drive to improve buy-at-home shopping in Campbell, the committee announced today. Each merchant will contribute a maximum of $75 toward purchase of a new Plymouth automobile which will be given away to a Campbell customer during Christmas week.

Ticket committee members are busy outlining a plan for distribution of the tickets to individual merchants. The money derived from the sale of these tickets will not go to the Campbell Press, which is donating some $400 in tickets and labor to the campaign. The money will be used as a promotional fund for cooperative advertising publicizing the event.

Merchants and the committees will meet Monday, August 22, at 8 p.m., in the Campbell Country Woman's clubhouse to formulate final plans for the drive. The committee has issued a statement that "this campaign is in no way associated with or sponsored by the Campbell Chamber of Commerce."

Sole aim of the merchants is to contribute to the development of Campbell and its business district through a policy of friendly consumer relations and mutual interest in growing for the future.

Accardi Named C of C Christmas Lights Chairman

Frank Accardi was appointed to head the Christmas street lighting committee again this year, when the Campbell Chamber of Commerce board met Wednesday evening.

Other items up for discussion included a proposed membership drive, possibility of organizing a planning committee, and the softball lighting fund.

The group voted to donate $200 to the fund being raised to install lights at the Campbell Grammar School softball field. Louis "Dad" Lee addressed the chamber on need for a clubhouse for older men of the community, and requested the organization's support. No action as taken on the matter.

Members learned that a merchant patrol will be named in the near future, probably before the first of September.

Also discussed was the current drive to increase merchant-consumer relations in Campbell by a merchant-sponsored campaign which will have as its climax the giving away of a new car during Christmas week. Although the balance of those present are participating in the drive, the board felt that it should announce that its merchant committee is not sponsoring the drive, and that the group in charge is not conducting the drive through the chamber.

Installation Begun On Softball Field Night Lights

Mrs. Mary Grey, softball lighting fund committee chairman for the Business and Professional Woman's Club, announced receipt of $55 more in donations for the fund, bringing the total up to $2189.93. More donations are still needed to raise the entire amount required for the purchase and installation of equipment. The donations came from Nelson Trucking, $25; Campbell branch American Trust Company, $25, and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Clark, $5.

Meanwhile, most of the materials have been delivered to the Campbell Grammar School field, and volunteer workers are busy every evening assembling and wiring the fixtures. Mrs. Grey said they expect to have the poles go up in about 10 days.

Committee Calls Extra Session

Final decision on selection of a merchant patrol is expected to be reached tonight at an extra session of the merchant patrol committee of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

Five of the original 22 applicants were interviewed last Friday night by the committee at the office of Attorney Richard Morton, member of the committee. No decision was reached at that time, and the group called a second meeting for this evening.

Planners Approve Business Zone At Former Cannery Property On Dillon

Petition of the Campbell Building and Investment Corporation and E. C. Merrill to reclassify the former Campbell Canning property on Dillon Avenue, was granted Wednesday following the second hearing on the matter by the Santa Clara County Planning Commission.

Although the corporation had requested an M-1, or manufacturing zone, in order to have it conform with the existing frontage zoning of part of the property, the commission granted a business zone classification. Representatives of the corporation expressed themselves as satisfied with the classification, since they intend to erect store buildings on the land. Contract has already been let to raze the cannery plant in preparation for the projected business building.

First public hearing on the petition of Lee Clevenger to reclassify property on the northwest corner of Santa Clara-Los Gatos Road and Hacienda Avenue fared not so well. Clevenger sought rezoning from an R-1: B-D zone to C-1, commercial, use for the expressed purpose of erecting a gasoline service station at the corner.

Residents and property owners of the section, represented by Attorney Norman Stoner, protested the application on grounds such a use would constitute a traffic hazard on the busy highway. Stoner said there are plenty of service stations in Campbell and Los Gatos, only five miles apart, and there is no need for an additional station in the Hacienda Avenue residential neighborhood.

Second hearing was scheduled for September 21.

Postponed at request of the Schaeffer Lands, Inc., was public hearing on its application for a traffic control permit to conduct a drive-in theater on the southeast corner of Union and Camden Avenues. The hearing was reset for September 7.

The planners denied application of Walter L. and Marion L. Winston for reclassification on the southwest corner of Union Avenue and Woodard Road from R-1:B-D, residential, to C-1, commercial zoning. The board explained that the present business zone is not yet fully developed and there was no showing of necessity.

Kiwanians View Color Films Of Old Mexico

Old Mexico, its people and its costumes, were viewed Tuesday evening by Campbell Kiwanians and their wives at a Ladies Night meeting and supper in the Country Woman's clubhouse.

Beautiful motion picture films in color were exhibited by Dr. Gustav Fassin of Los Gatos, who took the pictures himself during trips south of the border. Dr. Fassin's film subjects deal generally with the historical side of Mexico, with emphasis on old monuments, tombs, temples and churches. Other colored films depicted the colorful costumes of the natives, and a particularly awe-inspiring reel was shown of a Mexican volcano in action.

Guests for the evening were Gilmore and Doris Ericson. Mr. Ericson, from the Chapel of Psalms in Willow Glen, played three numbers on his xylophone.

At the regular Tuesday noon meeting of Campbell Kiwanis Club next week, members will hear a talk on the new dial phone system in San Jose by Robert Vining. Ross Trowbridge, chairman for the day, will introduce the speaker.

Rare historical items chronicling the story of California, the thirty-first state, are on a statewide tour in the above buses during this and next year. The Historical Caravan, sponsored by the California Centennials Commission, will travel from Mexico to Oregon and from the eastern slopes of the Sierras to the Pacific Ocean, will carry the four-century story of the Golden State to the people who are now adding to that history in all sections of the state.

California Historical Caravan Carries Story of Golden State To Its Citizens

The story of California—a chronicle that goes back four centuries to the "age of exploration" and spotlights succeeding epochal events that shaped the destiny of the "Golden State"—has been put on wheels in an Historical Caravan.

This traveling museum will be driven during 1949 and 1950 from Mexico to Oregon and from the eastern slope of the Sierra to the Pacific Ocean.

Dates for its arrival in this area are: Los Gatos, Sunday and Monday of next week, August 21 and 22 at Bean and Santa Cruz Avenues; Sunday, 1 to 9 p.m., Monday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. San Jose, September 9-12.

Assembled by the California Centennials Commission as a key feature of its three-year commemorative program, the Caravan consists of a priceless collection of original documents and objects that highlight a series of fourteen exhibit sections, each dealing with a specific period in the state's colorful history.

HISTORICAL ITEMS

The rare historical items, ranging from a brass plate Farncis Drake affixed on California's shores in 1579 to the gold spike that linked the first transcontinental railroad, are being taken around the state in two specially constructed steel buses.

These buses are so designed as to form a single display unit when being viewed by the public. Visitors enter the Caravan thru an awning covered ramp, pass through one bus into another without alighting and finally exit down a second ramp.

An around-the-clock detail of State Police is assigned the responsibility of safeguarding the exhibit pieces. When on location, this guard is supplemented by cooperating local police authorities and fire departments. While traveling from one city to another, the impressive white, blue and gold buses will be escorted by a detail of the State Highway Patrol.

Latest scientific devices assuring maximum theft and fire protection are installed within the buses. These include automatically actuated as well as manually operated fire extinguishing equipment.

County Sheriff Confers Here With Legion Patrol

Sheriff Howard Horbuckle met Monday night with the patrol committee of Campbell American Legion Post 596 to discuss plans for the legion patrol of the residential districts.

Hornbuckle reviewed duties of the patrol as outlined by his office, and advised the men on use and extent of authority vested in such a projected patrol.

After a sufficient number of applications have been received to complete the 21-man patrol, the group will be deputized and then go into the active work of conducting the nightly patrol to curb growing lawlessness and juvenile delinquency in the area.

Committee Chairman Rex Kaber said the patrol will cooperate with the County Sheriff's office, the California State Highway Patrol and Campbell Constable Ethan Lanphear.

California's new construction in 1948 was $2,450,000.00, nearly 14 per cent of the national total.

Radeach, Pradish?

Radishes and peaches may not be a tempting combination dish, but they grow together — sometimes, that is.

Al R. Fusaro and Joe B. Fusaro over at the J&A Market have the proof that Mother Nature, in an impish mood, is an old hand at creating freaks. The men were busy setting out their radish bunches the otoher day in neat display arrangements. One normal-appearing radish had a sizeable clump of dirt at its base. The vegetable man shook it off and—lo and behold, a peach pit, yet. Yup, the radish root had grown right through the peach pit.

Al says he plans to freeze the freak in some clear ice so his customers can view the pradish. He promised not to donate it to the Campbell Press.

Last Monday night, the group and their wives held a joint steak barbecue meeting with the Los Gatos club at La Rinconada Country Club. During the afternoon, the Campbell club held an informal golf meet at the club, with low score honors going to Tony Raffanti, with a 42 for nine holes, and Homer Hyde, 44.

Vegetable Plate

Louis "Dad" Lee has the answer to the housewife's dream—a combination vegetable plate, with salad, all growing on one vine.

At his home, 58 S. Third Street, Dad Lee has a squash bush with eight or nine varieties of squash and cucumbers growing on it. "It must have been the wind," said Dad. I planted all those seeds in the yard, and that's what grew."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

"Mind" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, August 21, with the Golden Text taken from Romans: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor?" (11:34).

Included in the sermon are the following citations:

Exodus: "And God spake all these words, saying, I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me" (20: 1-3).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: " 'Thou shalt have no other gods before me.' (Exodus xx.3.) The First Commandment is my favorite text. It demonstrates Christian Scieince. It inculcates the trinity of God, Spirit, Mind; it signifies that man shall have no other spirit of mind but God, eternal good, and that all men shall have one Mind" (p. 340).

Cupertino Grange Welcomes Visitors From Orchard City

Sevaral Orchard City Grangers were guests of Cupertino Grange at the regular semi-monthly meeting on Friday. Escorted to seat of honor was Master Martin Walsh, and others from the Campbell group were Overseer George Shattuck, H. E. Chairman Mrs. Martin Walsh, Mark Purmort, Anna Sawyer and Clarissa Smith. Another visitor was George Darst of San Jose Grange. Mr. Walsh gave a very interesting talk and invited members to the Orchard City Grange peach feed and amateur movies August 23. The movies were taken by the Walshes on their vacation trip east and to Cuba.

Three new members were initiated into the order. They were Ronald Schmele, C. W. Gibson and Ethel Gibson.

During the business session there was a discussion, initiated by Florence Sheffer on a traffic system at the corner of the Saratoga, Sunnyvale and Stevens Creek roads. It was decided to refer it to the State Highway Commission for possible action. A resolution from Morgan Hill Grange opposing a Juvenile Detention Home in Madonna Park was read and was approved by the grange. A letter from the California Physicians' Service was read by Secretary George Ames, followed by a discussion of the subject.

It was announced that the fifth and sixth degrees will be conferred at the Morgan Hill Grange hall October 7. After the meeting was closed a bingo game was enjoyed for about a half hour, after which refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Elizabeth and Frederick Wood, Nella Seevers and H. F. Paige, assisted by Alice Carp who replaced Mrs. Page who was absent. At the next meeting, August 26, the men will entertain and serve refreshments with Overseer Marvin Blair in charge.

Cupertino Man's Trans-Ocean Plane Damaged In N. Y.

An accident at New York International Airport has temporarily blocked plans of John D. Montgomery, 37, of Cupertino, Victor South, 34, San Francisco, and John Gentry, San Diego, to fly the Atlantic Ocean in a single-engine Howard monoplane. None of the three was injured.

The trio took off from Oakland airport Monday, August 8, and flew to Washington, D. C. From there they proceeded to New York where the accident occurred. A rear wheel locked as the plane was landing, and the plane was thrown on its side. South, the pilot, estimated the damage to the plane's wing at $700. Montgomery and his companions were landing to take on fuel for a flight to either Bangor or Presque Isle, Maine, whence they planned to cross the ocean to Shannon, Eire, via Goose Bay, Labrador, Bluie West One Air Base, Greenland, and Iceland. They carried U. S. permission to land at Greenland and Iceland airbases.

Plans to continue the proposed flight cost of repairs to the plane and possibilities of obtaining jobs during the three-week repair period.

Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Montgomery, Stevens Creek Road ranchers, is a graduate of the University of California. He served with the Merchant Marine during the war, and was previously employed by Remington-Rand. He has two sisters, Jean Montgomery of Cupertino, and Mrs. Frances Hale of Palo Alto. He and Gentry own the plane.

Birth rates in 1948 were five to ten per cent lower than in 1947.

Mr. Henry, a retired Western Pacific railroad telegrapher, was a veteran of World War I. He had served with the railroad for 30 years and was a member of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers.

Henry Ramp, Guitarist, Wins Opener In Campbell Theater Amateur Contest

Henry Ramp, guitarist, was named winner of the opening week amateur show contest Saturday evening at the Campbell Theater. Ramp, who played the electric guitar, was selected for the award by applause of the theater audience.

Other Campbell area residents who appeared in the opening contest of the five-week event were Lou Tralla Miles who sang "Cowboy Sweetheart," and Nancy Weeks, also a vocalist, who offered "I Love You So Much It Hurts."

Miss Miles and Miss Weeks are eligible to enter the Saturday night shows for the next three weeks, along with new contestants who have entered. Ramp will compete in the fifth week finals here with winners of the other three Saturday shows. The finals will appear at the County Fair September 14.

Theater Manager Harold Donner invited more amateur entertainers to join in the fun, and join the slate of those who will appear during the coming weeks. There is no entry charge. Just fill out the entry blank in this paper and mail or take it to the Campbell Theater or to the Campbell Press. The Saturday show starts at 8:30 p.m. Admission is free to all contest entrants. The J&A Market is cooperating with Donner and the Campbell Theater in sponsoring the local contest.

Santa Clara County Fair is asking the outstanding amateur artist in Campbell area to compete in its first county-wide Amateur Show at the fairgrounds Wednesday, September 14, at 7:30 p.m., announced Russell E. Pettit, fair manager.

In order to select the talent artist of Santa Clara County, the fair will hold amateur shows each week at the Campbell theater. Winners of each week's contest throughout August will compete in semi-finals at the fairgrounds the first week in September.

"We would like to select the outstanding amateur talent of Campbell, Palo Alto, Mountain View, Sunnyvale and Los Altos for a personal appearance at the fair," said Pettit. "Each winner of the weekly shows will receive free passes to the Santa Clara County Fair September 12-18."

Any amateur 12 years of age or over may participate in the amateur show in his community theater. Entry blanks may be obtained at the theater from the manager. All varieties of talent are being sought for the "Stars of Tomorrow" show September 14.

The people of Campbell will be the judges for the weekly shows. Audience applause will determine local winners. Both the semi-finalists and the finalists will be chosen by a board of judges.

"First prize, a television set, will go to the outstanding amateur of Santa Clara County," said Pettit. "To the runner-up, a record player, and a movie camera goes to the third place winner. All semi-finalists will receive a trophy. So if there is a 'Star of Tomorrow' in your family get that entry blank today."

Phone Directories To Be Delivered Soon In Campbell

Delivery of the new August 28 grey-covered Santa Clara County telephone directories containing new numbers for all San Jose and Santa Clara telephones will begin in the next few days, it was announced today by W. E. Williams, district manager for the telephone company.

Williams said the new San Jose and Santa Clara numbers, which will include central office names, will become effective on August 28 when the new dial system to serve these communities goes into operation. At that time, all Ballard, Columbia, Mayfair and Santa Clara numbers will be discontinued. He asked all Campbell subscribers to use their old books until August 28. The old books should then be destroyed and the new directories consulted when placing calls to San Jose and Santa Clara.

With the dial cutover, Williams said, subscribers with extended service will be able to dial San Jose and Santa Clara telephone numbers direct. Complete information on the new method of placing these calls is being mailed to affected subscribers.

More On Shooting

going across the yard between when the first bullet got me. It went through my billfold and into my hip. I didn't go down, but kept on going. I don't know when I got the others. Bullets were flying all the time. I reached the door and got into the house. There are bullet holes in that garage over there and the trailer, besides those in the wall." The Burnetts pointed to holes in the screen door, in the front door and in the front walls of their house.

Mrs. Burnett went to the screen door after her husband was in, and another bullet whanged through the wall, passing between Mrs. Burnett and nicking the throat of her husband who had come up behind her after getting his .38 colt revolver. Other bullets went through the screen while Mrs. Burnett stood there. Somewhere during his cross-yard run, another bullet left a surface bruise on Burnett's back.

"I got my Colt out and was all ready to shoot," said Burnett, "but I couldn't, there were too many lives in danger all around. Sutton turned his gun on his own wife, but it only clicked. He had shot all his bullets. He turned and ran up the street, then came back and got into his car and drove off."

During the shooting, the Burnetts s'on wasalso in the line of fire, but was not hit, he said. He ran along the opposite side of the homemade tent trailer, reached the front yard and ran down the line of houses to the Burnett home, where his wounded father, his mother, his wife and their five-weeks old baby were entrenched, along with the four daughters of the Suttons. Mrs. Sutton and her son were at the trailer with Mr. Burnett and his son when the shooting started, they said.

After the shooting, the Burnetts made room for the Sutton family in their own house and a second trailer in which the junior Burnett family have been living.

"His wife is just as good as she can be," said the son. When asked about Sutton's charges that Burnett had attempted to convert his family to his own religious faith, Mrs. Burnett replied, "She is already a good Christian. We only tired to get him to do right. He was always beating and whipping her. He didn't want his kids to go to school, but just to go around here and there working in the fruit."

At that point Mr. Burnett had to leave to keep an appointment with a local doctor who was to examine his hip wound. The family were hoping the rifle bullet, still in his hip, can be removed. Burnett was given emergency hospital care Monday evening at the Santa Clara County Hospital, and was later released.

Mrs. Sutton and her children, who had stayed with the Burnetts since Monday night, left Thursday night to move into the home which the Burnetts had helped find for them. The Burnetts asserted that Sutton had at first attempted to buy shells for his own rifle, but had been unable to do so due to the late hour. "He borrowed the rifle from Henry Pierce at 59 Gilman," they said, but were unable to give any reason for Pierce's loan of the gun to Sutton.

The alleged assailant reportedly returned the gun to Pierce afterthe shooting, then drove off in his car, picked up two young hitch-hikers, and was himself picked up by San Jose Patrolman Fred G. Petersen at Spencer Avenue and W. Santa Clara Street after an all-points radio bulletin was sent out.

Council Dispenses Funds To School Play Programs

Funds were distributed Friday at the meeting of the Campbell Coordinating Council to various schools handling their own recreation programs.

Schools which received funds were: Cambrian School, $100; Campbell Grammar School, $100; Moorpark Grammar School, $100; Moreland Elementary School $100; San Tomas Elementary School, $100; Campbell High School, $100. Other recipients were: Coordinating program, $150; night lighting fund, $100. A balance of $200 remains in the Council treasury.

James Peterson, former vice-president, was elected president of the council, and the group adopted a new policy on representative membership. Instead of receiving one representative from each organization in the district, the council will consist of one representative from each of the school districts listed above. Mrs. Frances Cousins is secretary-treasurer of the council.

Main function of the council will be to maintain and promote the recreational program in the Campbell High School district, to promote new efforts in the local recreation field, and to generally preserve the growing interest of the area in the recreation program.

Officers, in commenting on their overall plan for advancement of the program, commented that "An area with an active program will be ready for and deserving of the county and state funds when they are made available.

The funds listed above were originally raised for a community recreation program; however, this year when the individual schools assumed the task of operating their own recreation schedules for the summer, the council decided to contribute equally portions of the funds to all such school schedules within the district.

Boys Invited

Boys 16 to 20 years of age are invited to join the new Order of De Molay Chapter which will be formed in Los Gatos Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Masonic Lodge rooms, 8 N. Santa Cruz Avenue.

The chapter is for youths of the Campbell - Saratoga - Los Gatos area. Those interested are invited to be present at the opening session August 23.

Ed Lee Served As Delegate Chairman For Sons of Legion At Convention

Ed Lee, adjutant of Campbell American Legion Post 596, served as chairman of the state delegates for the Sons of the American Legion at the State Legion convention August 13-17 in Long Beach. Lee met with delegates from the 27 state districts of the Sons of the Legion, and gave the closing convention report for the group on Wednesday. Campbell is in the 13th district.

Other delegates to the convention were Leo Parks, commander of the Campbell post, and Guy W. Smith, post commander. They were among 4129 delegates registered for the confab. The trio, alonog with Legion Auxiliary delegates Mrs. William Burch, president, and Mrs. Rex Kaber, vice-president, attended the four-day session and the two main parades, the 40 et 8 and 8 et 40 two-hour parade on Saturday, and the five-hour complete legion parade Monday. Smith and Lee are members of Santa Clara Voiture 365, Forty et Eight.

Next meeting of Campbell Post will be held Wednesday, September 14, at 8 p.m. in the IOOF Hall. Delegates will make their convention reports to the members.

Men's Finals Postponed Week

Men's finals in the all-comers tennis tournament will not be played this weekend on the High School courts. The semi-final matches will not be completed in time. The men's finals will probably be run off next week.

In the women's final last Tuesday morning the contest was very close and exciting. Paula Geyer defeated Betty Sasaki 7-5, 3-6, 7-5. In a men's semi-final Wednesday night T. Shrewbridge defeated Norman Averich 6-5, 8-6. Several times Averich was within a point of winning the second set.

Carl B. Field has consented to umpire the men's finals when they are played. He will use a portable loud speaker, which will add much to spectator enjoyment of the match.

Petition To Rezone

Petition to rezone to commercial use property located on the easterly corner of San Jose-Los Gatos Road and Union Avenue, bounded on the north by Elden Drive, has been filed with the County Planning Commission by the firm of Hocking and Schrader. G. K. Schrader made the request which, if granted, would double the present commercial area at that intersection.

The Planning Commission has set dates for two hearings on the proposed amendment, September 7 at 2 p.m., and October 5 at 2 p.m.

LET'S BROWSE IN THE CAMPBELL LIBRARY

Fiction and non-fiction are given equal attention in the new books available at the Campbell branch of the Santa Clara County Library. Mrs. Elizabeth Singletary county librarian, provides brief reviews of the latest additions to the local office.

CARR, JOHN DICKSON.

'Of all the men of his time, few lived so many different lives as Doyle, and few left behind them so voluminous a record, even in an era of voluminous records. Whole rooms full of personal papers and notebooks (including fifteen hundred letters to his mother, 'The Ma'm' were made available by the Doyles, during the two solid years the author devoted to this book." Although based faithfully on these documents, the creator of Sherlock Holmes is portrayed in the vigorous and entertaining style of the author, himself a detective story writer of note. Among the many facets of his many-sided character, Doyle is revealed as identifying himself with Sherlock Holmes. After reading this biography, which many agree supersedes any other that has been written, the reader will feel that he has met an extraordinarily fine person, who lived honestly the kind of life he believed to be good.

NORTH, ROBERT CARVER
Revolt in San Marcos. 1949.

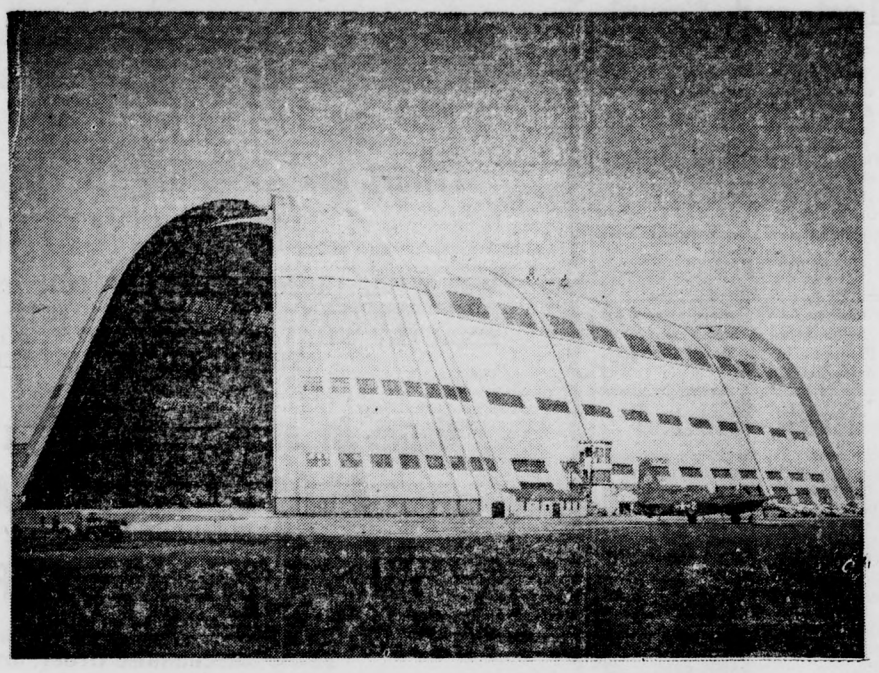
This is fundamentally the story of conflict between Liberals and Communists. Located in an unnamed Central American country and dated sometime during the last thirty years, the action revolves around an Indian, Carlos, born into the hardships of native village life, whose adult years were spent in the confusion of the city. Here he studied law, and was drawn into the crosscurrents of the Marxist and ruling dictator's factions, the whole overshadowed by the financial and political power wielded by a great Yanqui firm. This is fine and sincere writing, which will appeal to the serious reader.

STREETER, EDWARD.
Father of the Bride. 1949.

The trials and trobulations of a father have never been told so truthfully nor so hilariously as in this novel of the experiences and emotions of Mr. Banks. After spending years of worry, first that his daughter would marry too young and later that she would never marry at all, the announcement of her engagement caught him completely unprepared. From that moment the story of this forgotten man continues until the happy couple are on their way, leaving him to face a home in shambles and a bank account sadly depleted. Written by the author of "Dere Mabel," this is a story that will appeal not only to father, but all the rest of the family—it is always funny, sometimes unexpectedly tender, and the welcome addition of the drawings of Gluyas Williams are a delight in themselves.

BOWEN, ELIZABETH.
The Heat of the Day. 1949.

Elizabeth Bowen is one of England's most intellectual women writers, and belongs in the top flight of living novelists. "The Heat of the Day" is the most English of her novels, perhaps because its setting is war-time. It is the story of a pair of lovers, a man and a woman of refined sensibilities, mature in age and by experience, and yet one of them is a traitor. Each is the great love of the other's life, and Miss Bowen's theme sems to be, that close as lovers are to one another, yet there remains the unknown quantity between one person and another. It was this which was unbelievable to the good and beautiful Stella Rodney; that she could have known and loved Robert for so long a time and had never guessed this first thing about him, a thing so deeply centered, so inherent a part of his character. It is not something she can accept, no excuse; nor can she save him; but neither can she deny that as she has loved him all along, she loves him now.



Naval personnel, military and civilian, at the Naval Air Station, Moffett Field, are preparing to open wide the main gate for an expected capacity crowd of the general public at the Second Annual Charity Carnival in the dirigible hangar, an outstanding landmark in central California, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 25 through 27. An all-out effort will be made to show the general public an exciting time with the ultimate goal of raising many thousands of dollars for charity contributions. Highlighting the closing night will be the awarding of prizes, most outstanding of which is a beautiful maroon Dodge Coronet. The carnival committee has decided upon hours as follows: Thursday and Friday, 7 p.m. until midnight and Saturday, August 27, 1 p.m. until midnight—

As a result of the First Annual Charity Carnival held in the fall of 1948, all charity funds received generous contributions from the proceeds of the carnival. A cordial invitation is extended and the public is urged to come out and join in the fun and support this worthy cause.

A man who learned how to get the most out of life, only because he suffered a heart attack, offers an informative account of his illness and rediscovery of living for the benefit of fellow sufferers. The story, "Thank God For My Heart Attack," by Charles Yale Harrison, is one of the new books which arrived this month at the Campbell branch of the County Free Library.

Clark, Walter Van Tilburg.
The Track of the Cat. 1949.

Ever since publication of "The Ox-Bow Incident," critics have been waiting for a book like this from the pen of Walter Van Tilburg Clark. The former was so nearly perfect that, as Clifton Fadiman said, "It seemed to deny the possibility of growth on the part of the author." But with this new novel, Mr. Clark has surely convinced the literary world that he had more to give, and that they were not wrong in their recognition of him as an outstanding American talent. This is an artistic work that fully realizes its aims, a little capricious, but well-controlled. It is the story of a family in their struggle against a black panther, a conflict which has larger implications than its physical elements. There is a drama of personalities within the family itself, and the drama of man's fight against evil in the act of tracking the cat. Some men overcome evil by transcending it; others by passionate resistance and conflict. Mr. Clark writes with the awe of a nature lover, the reverence and gentleness of a mystic, and with the keen mind of a psychologist. The book is beautifully done; an absorbing story of simple people drawn for us on a grand scale.

Magidoff, Robert.
In Anger and Pity: A Report On Russia. 1949.

Written by a Russian-born American journalist who, after twelve years in Russia as correspondent, was accused last fall of being a spy and given three days notice to leave. The book is partly autobiographical and partly the author's observations on life in Russia as he knew it. Expressing pity for the Russian people and anger for their rulers and exploiterers, the information is both dispassionate and instructive. This is important reading as Mr. Magidoff has an excellent talent for presenting both sides of controversial questions.

Pearson, Hesketh.
Dickens: His Character, Comedy and Career. 1949.

No new material is introduced, but Pearson's dynamic, sparking quality has produced a biography which both informs and delights. The author, who has been a competent actor himself, believes that, in order to fully comprehent Dicken's character, he must be seen as an actor at all times, and it is in this aspect that his biography is presented. The novels are discussed chiefly for the autobiographical content and richly illustrated with Dickens own wit.

Roberts, Kenneth Lewis.
I Wanted to Write. 1949.

This is not a handbook for fiction writing as the title may suggest, but Kenneth Roberts does describe his methods of work and the young writer can gain much from the story of this successful writer's experiences. He traces his career from journalism days in Boston, as roving reporter in Europe, to writing in Italy and Maine. His account is diverting not only to those actively engaged in writing, but his vivid and appreciative views of persons like George H. Lorimer, A. Hamilton Gibbs, Booth Tarkington and others makes its interest general.

ACCIDENT DEATHS AT 1-18 RATE IN CALIFORNIA

One out of eighteen. Those are the odds that you will be killed if you are in a motor vehicle mishap in California this year, according to the scoreboard of the California Highway Patrol.

Last year 3085 persons were killed and 79,546 injured in 56,245 accidents and the patrol expects the same percentages to hold good this year. Why do they say that?

Because motorists and pedestrians are acting in 1949 very much the same as they did in 1948 and the Patrol knows from experience how those actions are related to the accident toll. They will go even further back all the way to 1938 and show that excessive speed, improper passing, use of intoxicants, right-of-way violations and general disregard of safe practices are the chief factors in keeping California high on the list of states with bad accident records.

They will show that most accidents occur between five and six p.m., in clear weather on streets and highways with unobstructed views and that at least one law violation was noted in each collision.

They will show that the percentage of deaths is higher at night despite the decrease in traffic, pointing out that poor visibility and too much speed are the main factors in this picture.

Dick "Aero Pharmacy" Salice has concocted something of a secret weapon in the line of fish-getters that almost put the humble sardine completely out of business as the favorite bait of salt water anglers. Until recently, Dick's method of fishing was raising havoc with all types of tackle-busting finsters inhabiting the briny deep along our rocky coastline. All that I am able to glean out of local fishing gossip is that Dick has a lure with hooks attached. Using a flexible steel saltwater rod with a regular type star drag saltwater reel, he plays out enough line until his "gimmick" sounds on the rocky ocean bottom. About five feet or so of line is reeled in and the rod tip is raised then lowered in such a manner causing the lure to take on the appearance of a small tasty fish in the throes of a violent spasm.

As mentioned before, up to now Salice has been catching his quota of rockfish, including ling-cod, cabezone, bluefish, red rock cod, gopher cod, chilipepper, etc. His last deep sea jaunt aboard a party boat out from Princeton resulted in an empty fish sack and the following story . . . "forty ling cod were caught by fifteen fishermen aboard our boat. Also an aggregation of rockfish and an eight foot shark. The others fished with sardines, and the ling evidently were feeding on a school of small sole due to the presence of these small fish in the ling's mouth." Now . . . we wonder if Dick is going to cook up a new type lure with a sole-ful look in its eyes . . .?

Among the Campbell anglers who brought home a nice catch of salmon recently was N. A. Lamb. Trolling from a boat out of San Francisco his efforts resulted in three scrappy salmon that averaged from 12 to 25 pounds.

From down Santa Cruz way we have a fishing pal who answers to the name of Brownie Mann. Now and then Brownie intends to keep this column posted regarding fishing activity in that area. His notes for this edition of the Campbell Press consist of the following: "Two Campbell anglers, John Renz and Ernest Porter, accounted for ling and red rock cod while fishing from one of Stagnaro barges . . . Renz with a ling weighing 20 lbs. and Porter caught a 12¾ lb. ling as well as a six pound red rock cod . . . kingfish are being taken by the pier fishermen and one lucky angler landed a large halibut . . . now and then someone will hook a sole . . . also took note of a huge ling cod that almost reached a length of five feet; it was caught aboard one of Stagnaro's barges . . ."

Mid Middleton, the San Tomas archer and his fishing pal Shorty Farmer tried their luck at both Pinto and Kelly lakes. Using black bass tackle the boys attached sand fleas dug from the beach at Seacliff to their hooks and brought home enough crappie to make the frying pan smell a little bit. One angler, according to Mid, displayed a nice string of crappie. This chap fished with a fly rod and no doubt, used trout flies.

Quite a number of us welcme the news that the Division of Fish and Game intends to resume the issuance of hunting and fishing license holders. H. R. Dunbar, license chief, is designing the new 1950 holder which will "be of a dull, non reflective finish: displaying the full face of the license; and equipped with a double pin to eliminate loss."
